U. S. ARCTIC TRIP RIGHTS ARE DEBATED

Canada Insists McMillen Expedition Ask Leave to Cross Ellsmere Land

CLAIMS NORTH COUNTRY

State Department Studies Demand as Compliance Would Mean Recognition

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co. Washington, D. C.—Canada has sent word to the United States government that the MacMillan-Byrd expedition to the Arctic should request permission to cross Ellsmere land as the latter is claimed to be Canadian territory.

The navy department transmitted the communication to the department of state before acting upon it, the point being that if the United States asks permission this will amount to a recognition of Canada's claim to ownership of Ellsmere land.

W. W. Cory, deputy minister of interior, made a special trip to Washington to discuss the matter with the American government and this now has been followed up by a formal note from the Canadian minister of interior, Charles Stewart, who expresses the hope that it is not the intention of the proposed expedition to lay claim to territory within Canada's jurisdiction.

NO CONCURRENCE

Claims to polar land are vague, but Canada has drawn a line from western Canada to the eastern part of Greenland and claims everything north of the line to the pole itself including Ellsmere land as well as Crocker land which Perry reported seeing on his journey to the pole.

The Canadian government bases its claim largely on its treaty with Russia, but so far as has been ascertained thus far, there is nothing on record between the United States government and Canada which concurs in the Canadian claim.

As a general rule claims for unexplored territory have in past history been superseded by actual discoveries and new explorations, and the American authorities thus far are inclined to the view that if the MacMillan expedition finds new land after a hazardous trip, the United States should be entitled to claim it. The American government is willing, however, to discuss the matter fully before arriving at a conclusion.

NOT CUSTOMARY

So far as permission to cross Canadian territory is concerned, it is not considered probable that the Ottawa government will require a definition of the American government's position before allowing the explorers to go through Canadian territory.

It is not customary to ask permission from a foreign country for permission to sail to a foreign port, though there have been understandings made with reference to the use of planes by governments. In this case, the territory is uninhabited and the sending of planes across the region would not imperil any life.

The whole discussion is being handled in the friendliest fashion and if a dispute did arise at some subsequent date with respect to the ownership of any newly discovered land, the American government probably would be willing to submit it to a competent international tribunal.

The Canadian government has appointed a commission to investigate the matter and it is not unlikely that meanwhile the American government will do likewise or turn it over ultimately to the joint high commission which handles all matters affecting the boundaries between the United States and Canada.

POWERS BLAME CHINESE FOR RIOTERS' DEATHS

Washington, D. C.—Disturbances in Shanghai and Canton have been extended to include Changsha where the situation is reported Thursday to the state department as "serious but under control."

Peking—The reply of the powers to China's note protesting the recent shooting of Chinese rioters at Shanghai by foreign police, deprecates the affair, but says the responsibility rests upon the Chinese demonstrators and not upon the authorities of the foreign concessions of Shanghai.

SENATE HALTS POPULAR VOTE ON 2.75 BEER

Defeats Enabling Act for Wet Referendum in 1926 by Vote of 19 to 13

Madison—Senator Walter Polakowski of Milwaukee at noon Thursday introduced a resolution in the state senate virtually ordering as a legislative act, that Fred Zimmerman, secretary of the state, place the question of the beer referendum on the ballot in the general election of 1926.

The resolution disregards the content of an opinion by Attorney General Ekern that an issue cannot be passed to the people for referendum by resolution without an accompanying enabling act. The beer referendum was considered and adopted by the legislature by resolution only.

Madison—The state senate Thursday refused, 19 to 13, to suspend its rules to permit introduction of the Polakowski enabling act to the adopted resolution providing for a state referendum on the beer question. The vote failed of a two-thirds majority.

The action of the senate blocks an attempt to obtain an expression of the people as to their desire for a change in the Volstead act to permit manufacture, sale and distribution of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content beer under rigid supervision. So hope of the wets for favorable legislation at their session of the legislature lies in conference in the wagers resolution pending in the senate, asking congress to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of obtaining an amendment to the federal constitution repealing the eighteenth amendment.

Previous to action by the senate Attorney General Ekern, in an opinion written by J. E. Messersmidt, assistant attorney general, advised State Senator J. L. Barber that a legislative act, signed by the governor, would be necessary to submit the question to the voters. The beer proposal is contained in a joint resolution adopted by both houses.

The opinion held the ordering of a referendum on a certain date and on a certain question to be attempted by legislation, because it imposes additional duties on election officials and the expenditure of additional money for printing ballots and other matters. The legislature, it was added, cannot legislate by joint resolution.

Business To Suffer Under New Tax, Says Zimmerman

By Associated Press
Racine—Business enterprises of Wisconsin are placed under "a serious handicap" by the recently enacted tax law, Secretary of State Fred F. Zimmerman declared in an address here Thursday before the Kiwanis club.

"Wisconsin is now collecting more than twice as much revenue from business enterprises as Illinois is receiving from the same sources," Mr. Zimmerman said, "although the population of Illinois is two and a half times that of Wisconsin, and its wealth is more than four times as great."

Mr. Zimmerman exhibited a chart which purported to show in one column, the amount of general property tax, and in another the amount of "other taxes" that were collected in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin in 1920 and 1922. He explained that the "other taxes" consisted of the revenues derived from railroad, street car, telephone, telegraph, express and insurance companies, etc., and from incomes and inheritance. The chart showed that

Wield Mop Far And Wide To Stop Booze Flow Here

Off repeated statements that "you can buy liquor almost anywhere" seem to have had some truth, judging from the fact that about 30 soft drink parlor owners in Appleton, Kimberly, Little Chute, and other outlying points are being summoned to Green Bay to answer to the charge of selling the forbidden fluid. Almost all who have appeared thus far have entered pleas of not guilty and have been bound over for trial in the United States district court in Milwaukee. They have been released in each case on bail of $750.

Those who were arraigned before John F. Watermolen, United States commissioner at Green Bay and pleaded not guilty were: Ed Eisch, 702 E. Wisconsin-ave, Charles Zisk, 503 N. Appleton-st, Henry Lilje, 414 N. Appleton-st, Roy Myse, 225 E. College-ave, Gil Myse, 128 W. College-ave, "Doc" McCarey, bartender for Gil Myse, Thomas S. Hill of Appleton Junction, Henry Pikel, 729 W. College-ave, Joseph Becher, 1200 S. Oneida-st, and two Little Chute men, John Haimmen and Theodore Oudenhoven.

Others from Appleton, Kimberly, Darby, Medina, Dale and nearby points also were summoned to Green Bay on warrants and were to appear Thursday. Four were arraigned in the morning, pleaded not guilty and were bound over for trial with bond of $750. These were: Henry Eklund, who sold liquor at his residence in Appleton; Martin Verboten, John Laeyendecker and Ed Hofkens, Kimberly, and F. C. Schuler, Combined Locks.

Still others were to have their cases heard this week on similar charges. The remaining list includes: Henry Probst, Greenville; Ben and Joseph Overesch, Sunny Slope; Donald Van Roy, 812 S. Oneida-st, George Durdell, Appleton; Fred Zimmerman, Medina; G. A. Brooks, Dale; Bartlett Graft and Leo Gregorius, Darby; Anton Steffens, Menasha; Sheldon Stammer, Apple Creek; Andrew Pikel, Appleton.

Appleton soft drink parlor owners were represented at the hearing by Attorney F. J. Rooney of this city, and those of Combined Locks and Little Chute by Attorney M. E. Davis, Green Bay.

Federal prohibition officials working quietly over a long period gained evidence that all of these places were selling liquor and had warrants issued at Milwaukee.

GOVERNOR EXTENDS DATE OF CHAPMAN'S HANGING

By Associated Press
Hartford, Conn.—A reprieve for Gerald Chapman from June 25 to Dec. 3 was issued Thursday by Governor John H. Trumbull, on the application of state's attorney Hugh M. Alcorn. Chapman was convicted at the March term of the superior court of the murder of Policeman Skelly in New Britain and after a sensational trial was sentenced by Judge Jennings to be hanged at the state prison on June 25.

The indictments charge that the mother killed Isabelle 18, Charles 19, and Walter 13, upon whose deaths insurance policies were collected.

In her confession, Mrs. Cunningham said she killed only the ones she loved best, and attempted to kill herself by poison so that she might "join Pa in heaven." Her husband, David Cunningham, Sr., whom she called "Pa" died July 2, 1918, when the family lived at Valparaiso, Ind. After his death Mrs. Cunningham and the children moved to Gary where all of the other deaths occurred.

The assembly Thursday defeated the senate proposal for consolidating the department of markets with the agricultural department it nonconceded, 68 to 10, in the Schumann bill, after unsuccessful efforts had been made by Assemblymen Blanchard and Holly to make the scope of the consolidation plan wider.

The measure establishing a restoration camp for disabled war veterans and establishing service memorial institutes in the state hospitals, sponsored by the American league, was concurred in, 68 to 3. It goes to Governor Blaine for signature, the measure having previously received his approval.

The assembly also concurred in the bill permitting outdoor boxing exhibitions, and it goes to the governor.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE WILL PASS OVER HERE SUNDAY

Washington—A revised schedule for the airship Los Angeles on its flight to Minnesota next week for the Norse centennial was announced Thursday by the navy department. Leaving Lakehurst the morning of June 7, it is due to arrive at its destination the next morning and return where the heat has most intense, the last day or two, and the coast states particularly were to have the heat wave with them as a more or less welcome guest.

Only Kansas of the middle western commonwealths was favored in the bureau's prognostications. In the present portion of Kansas it will be somewhat cooler Friday if these ven-

DEBATE ASSESSMENT ON ST. PAUL ROAD STOCK

Washington, D. C.—A move toward assisting stockholders of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad to meet assessments placed upon them in the road's reorganization plan has been started here by a group of stockholders.

J. D. Shafford, representing the American Railroad Owners Association informed H. W. Byram, one of the directors and former president of the road at a conference Wednesday night that unless such action taken the reorganization plan will meet with opposition.

$25,000 LOSS IS CAUSED BY NIGHT BLAZE

Students Break Out of Windows to Escape Menace of Flames

Five students were injured, about 50 students were made homeless, and damage estimated at $25,000 was caused by a fire which started in Brokaw hall, men's dormitory of Lawrence college, shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday night, presumably in a clothes chute into which firecrackers were said to have been thrown earlier in the evening. The entire third and fourth floors of the north wing are burned out and the floors under these are so badly damaged by smoke and water that they may be considered a total loss. Every room in the building suffered some damage, with the exception of two or three in the middle section on the lower floors.

STUDENT BURNED

William Godfrey, 20, of Bessmer, Mich., trapped in a room on the fourth floor and without access to a fire escape, was forced to climb through a window and over the roof, after he had been burned about the hands and from the chest up. He was taken to Elizabeth hospital, and his father summoned.

Bernard Herrick, 24, professor of the fourth floor in the north section, of Marshall, was badly burned about the hands and suffered a deep cut in his wrist.

Alexander Smith, 20, Route 6, Green Bay who occupied a room on the third floor, was burned about the face and hands.

Thomas Hayakawa, Koko, Japan, while escaping from the third floor by way of the stairs, jumped while at the head of a flight and broke a rib. He was badly bruised.

Anton Peterson, 20, Hollandale, suffered a deep cut in his right foot which required five stitches to close. The injured men were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital in the police car and the ambulance.

Several alarms were turned into the fire department, at almost the same time, Kenneth Greaves, Sturgeon Bay one of the several students who escaped from the building by crawling over the roof, was the first to telephone the fire department. He ran down the fire escape and placed a call from a nearby saloon. At almost the same time Archie Kapp, desk sergeant at the police station, who was on his way to work, saw flames and smoke issuing from the hall and turned in an alarm from Box 26.

The flames which had been raging in the clothes chutes for some time, had spread almost beyond control when the first fire fighters arrived. With the aid of the students living in the hall, two hose lines were dragged up the four flights of stairs in the north wing, one up the fire escape on the north side of the building and the 55-foot extension ladder was raised to lead a line to the roof where a hole was cut to give access to the flames. While holding one of the nozzles, Fred Holz, one of the fire fighters, had his hands badly scalded by water dripping down from the hot walls.

DECLARES EKERN FILED IMPROPER EXPENSE CLAIMS

Insurance Commissioner Testifies at Senate Hearing on Attorney General

By Associated Press
Madison — W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner told the senatorial committee investigating his controversy with Attorney General Ekern at the brief hearing Wednesday, that he thought expense accounts submitted by Mr. Ekern to be paid by the state were "improper."

He admitted, however, that his statement was based merely upon Mr. Ekern's attendance at a convention of insurance commissioners in Minneapolis and the attorney general's alleged submission of an expense account in connection with the "Pittsburg Plus" case. He alleged that the account covered a period of about the same time that Ekern was at the Minneapolis convention.

Asked by Frank Gilbert, counsel for the attorney general, when he learned that Mr. Ekern was counsel for the Beavers Fraternal Insurance Society, Mr. Smith said he did not know about it until a "long time" after he became insurance commissioner. The commissioner testified he asked Mr. Ekern for an opinion on Building Investments of the Western Catholic union in a "very informal way" last December and that he had never again called the matter to the attorney general's attention prior to the hearing.

Weather Man Promises No Relief From Intense Heat

By Associated Press
Chicago—Little hope for cooler weather was held out Thursday by the weather bureau to a million sweltering in many places from the greatest June heat in many years.

Continuance of high temperature, prevalent from the Rockies to the Atlantic ocean for several days was forecast by the weather observers for at least 24 hours longer at many points. The middle Atlantic states where the heat has been most intense, the last day or two, and the coast states particularly were to have the heat wave with them as a more or less welcome guest.

Only Kansas of the middle western commonwealths was favored in the bureau's prognostications. In the present portion of Kansas it will be somewhat cooler Friday if these venrain some more in the midwest, the weatherman added. Showers and thunderstorms, he said are to be the order in every state from Michigan and Indiana to Montana and Wyoming.

While the midwest has seven deaths due to the storm within the last 26 hours in addition to several others previously, the east announced a death total of 12 in three days due to heat and 50 prostrations.

Large property damage was done in Omaha by a wind storm which struck late in the day, causing wind-blown persons at a race track to lie in the mud until a feared tornado had passed. Shriners' festivities in Los Angeles were postponed because of rain, but the California reports called to say if the downpour was accompanied by sultry heat, as were many of the midwest's rains Wednesday.

HOSPITAL NUNS ANSWER DUTY'S CALL TO CHINA

Eau Claire—After 22 years of faithful service in the Sacred Heart hospital here, Sister "Wilhelma," one of the most popular nuns ever stationed at the local institution, left Wednesday night for the mother house of the Franciscan order, at Springfield, Ill., to go into retreat, prior to her departure for Tsi Nun Fu, North Shantung, China, where, as sister superior, she will take charge of a hospital to be established by the order.

Sister Wilhelma's last day in Eau Claire was on the order of a continuous reception for a constant stream of people, including all the doctors of the city and many from Chippewa Falls, stood in line to bid her good speed to the scene of her new labors from which she does not expect to ever return alive.

Four other sisters of the Franciscan order will accompany Sister Wilhelma to China to work in the hospital. With her they were elected from the scores of volunteers who responded when the first call went out for sisters to go to the Chinese field.

Indiana—Thomas Riley Marshall, a character known to state and nation, was laid to rest here Thursday. Such simple obsequies as might be tendered any humble citizen were accorded the body of him who served the nation as vice president during the World war and his native state Indiana as its twenty-seventh governor. It was the widow's wish that in death he should be unostentatious just as he was in life.

A tribute was paid by the Rev. Matthew Smith, Mr. Marshall's warm friend and pastor. Scottish rite services for departed brothers were read by the masonic order and then the body was taken to Crown Hill cemetery, where it will remain in a receiving vault until Mrs. Marshall decides upon its final resting place.

The Rev. Mr. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, which was the worshiping place of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall in this city, spoke of Mr. Marshall as a Christian and a churchman and of his meekness and kindness.

Then William Geake of Fort Wayne, Ind., deputy for Indiana for the supreme council of the Scottish rite, Arthur E. Robinson, Indianapolis, deputy warden, Fred I. Willis, Indianapolis, and others, sang the hymn he loved, "Lead, Kindly Light." The ancient landmarks lodge, conducted services at the cemetery.

LUNATIC SLAYS EIGHT MEMBERS OF HIS FAMILY

After Shooting Sleeping Relatives He Turns Gun on Himself, but Lives

Hamilton, O.—Becoming violently insane, Floyd Russell, early Thursday shot and killed eight members of his family, according to the police, who arrested him after he had shot and slightly wounded himself. His victims were the five children of his mother, brother and sister-in-law.

Russell is in a padded cell in the county jail. The dead are Mrs. Rose Russell, 60, mother, John Lowell Russell, brother, Emma Russell, 35, wife of John Lowell Russell, 12, Robert S. George Francis, 6, Paul Lewis, 3, and Richard, four-months old children of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell.

Dorothy 10, saved herself by hiding in bed when she heard shots. Russell then turned the weapon on himself, shooting himself in the left lung.

After the shooting he riddled the bodies of several of the children with bullets. He had two guns and fired in all about 50 shots, he said.

Police said he walked incoherently about a mortgage on the house and said he would shoot the pictures off the wall. Russell is 42 years old. Most of the victims were sleeping.

Blaine VETOES BILL ON DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS

Madison—Governor Blaine has vetoed a bill providing for declaratory judgments, by which all courts of record could decide hypothetical questions concerning validity of contracts or law before a breach of the contract or law occurred.

Prompt justice can be obtained under the present Wisconsin laws, the Governor said, and the validity of declaratory judgments is doubtful and questionable as public policy. A similar law was repealed in 1923.

HUBER BREAKS SENATE TIE ON TITUS MEASURE

By Associated Press
Madison—The vote of Lieutenant Governor Henry Huber in the state senate Wednesday night killed an effort on the part of Senator William A. Tamm, Fond du Lac, to make state officials report to the senate the length of time they, or any of their subordinates were away from their duties last year in the purposes of political campaigns.

When the roll call on the question whether the resolution should be indefinitely postponed showed a tie 15 to 15, Mr. Huber voted "aye."

Berlin—The interallied note to Germany detailing her failure to fulfill the disarmament requirements of the Versailles treaty was Thursday presented to Chancellor Luther by Baron D'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, representing the Allied ambassadors who accompanied him.

CITY MUST HAVE MORE MONEY TO FINISH SCHOOLS

Award Contract for Building Junior H. S. Addition to Fourth Ward School

Between $15,000 and $20,000 more than is in the present junior high school fund will be needed to carry out the school program of the city this year, the city council estimated Wednesday night after accepting bids amounting to approximately $38,000 for construction of the junior high school addition to the Fourth ward school. The Hegner Construction Co. was given the contract for building the shell. A. J. Bauer for the plumbing, Art and Killoran for the electrical wiring, and John Engel for heating and ventilation.

R. F. McGillan, alderman from the Fourth ward, moved that the low bid be accepted and that the contract be signed after the deeds to the land on which the addition will be built have been signed. A lengthy discussion as to where the funds were to come from preceded the adoption of this resolution, in which it was brought out that $88,223.19 remained in the junior high school fund. The cost of furnishing the three new schools will be about $55,000. Ben J. Rohan, school superintendent-elect told the council, and the completion of grounds, sidewalks and other small contracts probably will raise this sum considerably.

WOULD MAKE LOAN

Mr. McGillan suggested that if the necessary money could not be squeezed out of the general fund the city might borrow it because it would not be good policy to float a bond issue for such a small sum. The people will not complain, he said, but will be glad to have another school.

Alderman Charles Fosse suggested that money left in the paving budget might be diverted to school purposes. He stated that a considerable sum would be left over after completion of the paving program because a number of streets were taken off the schedule for which the budget provided and the quotations on paving were lower than had been expected.

Upon inquiry from Alderman Mark Catlin, Mr. Rohan stated that Frank Younger would act as principal of the Fourth ward junior high school in addition to his present duties, and that an additional staff of five teachers would be needed.

For the benefit of new aldermen who entered the city council this year, Alderman McGillan explained that originally a bond issue of $20,000 had been provided for the alteration of the present building in the Fourth ward, but that this had been found impracticable and an addition considered necessary.

The council failed to arrive at a decision as to how funds should be raised to meet the deficit, but agreed that the school should be built and on motion of Alderman McGillan voted that Smith and Brandt, the engineers who had prepared the plans and specifications for the addition, should supervise construction work.

ST. PAUL SCHOOL HAS ITS PICNIC INDOORS

Plans had been made to have the picnic at Pierce park but on account of rain it was held in the school. Games furnished entertainment and a picnic dinner and supper were served. The teachers and the school board were in charge of arrangements.

$25,000 LOSS CAUSED IN BROKAW HALL FIRE

to the first, although these men were off duty at the time. The students won high praise from Chief McGillan for their efforts to assist the firemen, and rendered invaluable aid in extinguishing the flames.

Bernard Herrick, proctor of the section in which the fire started, is said to have been the first to discover the fire, but he was unable to turn in an alarm because the only telephone available to students was shut off by a switch in the room of Clarence Krug head proctor. His room was on the first floor. The only telephones in the building are in the main hall, in the maids' department and in the hall office. It is said the phone in the maids' quarters was not shut off but the doors leading to it were locked.

All lights in the building were turned out about 11 o'clock, students declare. According to college authorities, lights in the hall were to remain burning all night but students declare none was lighted and the building was in almost total darkness. Small lights were burning in the toilets, it was said.

Student complaints that fire escape exits were not easily opened were denied by college authorities. The department officials said they were borne out by investigation. Screens were placed across some of the windows at fire escapes on the fourth floor but they were easily torn or pushed out. Windows leading to the escapes on some of the floors were fastened so they could not be opened but egress was easy by breaking the glass.

Windows on fire escapes generally were fastened in a way that made entrance difficult from the outside but there was little or no difficulty to get out of them.

It was reported that fire department officials had gone over the whole system of fire protection and fire escapes at the college and had approved what had been done.

Students, however, said that the screens and chains on the windows hampered them in getting out of the building.

Besides the damage done to the building itself, which was very considerable, many students lost heavily. Many of the men lost wardrobes, text books, and many documents and other personal possessions. In several instances they had bills and currency locked in their desks, which were destroyed.

The building was insured for $54,000 and the furniture for $2,500.

The students rendered homeless by the blaze are being sheltered in fraternity houses and in the Y. M. C. A., where they will remain until other accommodations can be found or until the end of the term on June 12.

After fighting the flames steadily for more than two hours, the first shift of firemen was relieved at 1:30 but the second shift remained on duty to put out stray sparks until 2 o'clock Thursday morning.

BOY BREAKS ARM TRYING TO HELP MAN

Herman Damsheuser, a newsboy, broke a wrist Wednesday evening when he attempted to "crank" an automobile for a driver who stopped in front of his home at 1514 N. Richmond-st. and yelled for help. The driver, apparently much the worse for a bout with something stronger than near-beer, was unable to get his car started and the youngster offered to help. The engine kicked back and the crank handle struck the boy on the wrist, breaking a bone.

The boy is the son of Mrs. Helena Damsheuser.

HATCH FIRST OF PHEASANT EGGS

Nine Mongolian Birds of Supply Given by Sportsmen Developing

Eleven chicks were hatched out of a setting of twelve Mongolian pheasant eggs on the August Melchert farm at Black Creek, the tiny birds having come out of their shells Tuesday. Two of them were killed, however, but the remaining nine, appear to be strong and vigorous, and if they all live it will be a good beginning in the propagation of these beautiful game birds in Outagamie-co.

There still are approximately 150 eggs of the ringnecked pheasant distributed among various farmers of the county, which are due to hatch within the next ten days. These eggs, however, are not expected to do as well as the first setting, which was presented to Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association, by several of its members. The Mongolian eggs were much more expensive than the ringnecked pheasant eggs. They were secured from a game farm in Ohio.

Sportsmen here fear that the majority of the ringnecked pheasant eggs may have been spoiled in shipment, and do not expect more than 5 per cent to hatch out.

The appearance of the nine baby pheasants augurs well for the success of the association's experiment, however, in propagating pheasants. Most

TOO MANY LAWS

Governor Blaine does well to protest against the multiplicity of laws encumbering our statute books and the tendency to enact more and more laws. "Stricter and sterner, heaping the penalties higher and higher under the delusion that modern crusaders can make men good by passing laws and the establishment of moral guard-rails over the people." These are fine words, but they do not square with what is going on at Madison. The legislature started out with a promise of a short session, two or three months. Only a comparatively few laws were to be enacted or seriously considered. The governor declared he was for this program. The legislature has now been in session five months, with the prospect that it will not adjourn for another month or two. More than two hundred laws have been enacted and several hundred bills remain to be considered. If this is not contributing to the multiplicity of laws against which the governor speaks, what is it? Yet, the government is a Blaine government and the legislature under the control of the executive, and that is the use it is making of its power.

Everyone except crusaders and reformers will agree with what Mr. Blaine says about the desirability of less governmental interference with the habits, morals and customs of the people—in short, with their personal liberties. There is no doubt, as he contends, that these laws breed moral decay rather than moral strength. There are still some misguided persons in this country who believe that people can be made good by laws just as there were in the days when people used to be pilloried for desecrating the Sabbath and used to be burned for refusing to accept certain forms of Christianity.

Nevertheless, the governor is wholly right when he infers that attempts at law enforcement invite vicious reaction, awakening the personal and social determination not to "continue to be the scapegoat of such zealotry." So long as the people permit their representatives to go on grinding out more regulations, laws, restricting personal liberties, and attempting to make crimes or misdemeanors out of their vanities, fancies and whims, just so long should the people abide by such laws and raise no objection to their enforcement. In fact, it is just as much the duty of the government to enforce these laws as it is other laws. It must do so if it is to preserve its prestige, power, efficacy. It is not within the province of enforcement officers or of executives to say what laws are good and what bad, what shall be enforced and what shall not. It is their duty to enforce all alike without fear or favor.

The doctrine intimated by Governor Blaine, and urged by many of the "wet" newspapers, of rebellion against laws which in the individual's opinion are an unreasonable abridgment of his rights, in other words, the doctrine of nullification, is as dangerous as it is inconsistent. It is that doctrine that causes more "moral decay" than "crusading under the shield of law enforcement." We do, however, agree with the governor that we have gone to dangerous extremes in trying to regulate personal conduct and that the multiplicity of laws of this character has reached a point where it is exceedingly difficult to enforce them, no matter how diligent and how earnest may be the attempts of the authorities.

Wisconsin can claim no exemption from the indictment of the governor. It is as bad an offender as the other states. Perhaps if we had more vigorous and more genuine efforts at law enforcement we would accomplish the end the governor seeks, because if the people were really made to obey all of the laws they are putting on the statute books, there is little doubt they would find many of them irksome and obnoxious and demand their repeal or modification. Whether this is so or not we should have law enforcement. Without law enforcement government becomes an empty thing, and there is little security for anyone or anything.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S ADDRESS

President Coolidge in his Annapolis address stated some plain truths about the navy and international relations. The navy he held to be a peace organization. If this were not true he would question its usefulness. History proves that he is true. The navy has been used solely as a peace instrument and for the defense of the nation. Since the navy is our chief guarantee of peace, the president asserts his confidence that it will be adequately maintained.

He insists that national defense "like the general duty of citizenship, should be broadly extended and borne by all our people." That is the way, the only way, in which we can avoid the expense of maintaining large standing military forces. Mr. Coolidge argues, therefore, that since freedom, independence and self-government are all opposed to militarism, "the true spirit of American institutions requires that each citizen should be potentially a soldier, ready to take his place in the ranks in time of peril, either in the field or in the necessary productive activity."

It is because we wish to avoid the necessity of keeping a large standing army that "the average citizen must give some attention to military affairs." He does not contend, in fact he does not believe, that if we had "a sufficient military establishment" no nation would ever molest us. He points out that no nation in history has been able to maintain that position. What he does believe is that if we make the navy an adequate instrument of defense, combined with righteousness, then we are little likely to have war.

In the field of international relations the president pays his respects to the agitators against Japan, Great Britain and other nations by declaring he knows of no people which harbor a hostile intent toward the United States. He for his part is willing to assume that one of the "strongest attributes of all peoples is a desire to do right." One of the aphorisms that sets out his address is the statement that "the chief reliance of the world is faith," with the assertion that we cannot maintain any of our necessary relations without faith. If some of our jingoes and extreme nationalists would take these words to heart we would avoid most of the misunderstanding that occasionally arises between us and other nations.

The president's entire speech is reassuring, soothing, strengthening. He is satisfied that the "dominant traits of mankind are truth and justice and righteousness and that appeal to reason must ultimately prevail." He admits that there is evil in the world, but makes the point that we will not progress if we "undertake to recompense evil with evil." Here is a lesson for those who are always suspicious, who have a chip on their shoulder, who put the emphasis on the false rather than upon the truth, upon corruption and treachery rather than upon purity and honor.

It is significant that this strong and unconditional presentation of American peace aims and foreign policies, coupled with confidence in so great a measure in international integrity and goodwill, is made at the commencement exercises of our national naval academy. The entire address of jingoism and of bombast is wholesome and refreshing. That the president has a true conception of national defense and our military policies no one will doubt. It should have a good effect abroad among the nations which we wish to bind together and with us in a course of peace.

HOW'S YOUR RESISTANCE?

Old fashioned teachers of hygiene who still believe in taking cold have a "prepared position" upon which they can fall back challenged. This reserve trench or dugout of theirs is suspiciously close to the position of the fad healers who readily concede that there may be germs or microbes associated with various diseases but if so the microbes are present merely as a consequence of the disease. The reserve position of the old fashioned teachers is that there may be germs or microbes associated with what they vaguely call "colds," but the germs gain entrance to the field or ascendancy over the tissue cells only when the "resistance" has been lowered by exposure to cold or other factors.

Curiously enough, the scientific evidence bearing on the question of resistance is rather more convincing in relation to such diseases as diphtheria and tuberculosis than it is in relation to the more common respiratory infections, and yet these reactionary doctors and health officers who still uphold the cold theory never dwell upon the predisposing or contributing factors when instructing the people about the prevention of diphtheria or tuberculosis. Wouldn't it be ridiculous for a health officer, for instance, to warn people about the dangers of getting their feet wet or admitting a draft as there is considerable diphtheria or tuberculosis in this season of the year? It would, yet it is not nearly so ridiculous as the public advice regularly given out by the health officers of some of our great cities every season in reference to what they evasively term "colds"—of course they never define what an alleged "cold" is. They prefer to leave that to the complacent victim of the delusion. I challenge any one who believes there is such a thing as a "cold," to define what a "cold" is, and I particularly challenge any health authority or physician to demonstrate an actual case of "cold" which is not obviously an undiagnosed or wrongly diagnosed disease.

Some one has referred me to some of the experimental studies of the great Pasteur for scientific evidence bearing on the effect of exposure to cold and wet resistance. Pasteur conceived the idea that the immunity of fowls to the germ disease known as anthrax which is so fatal to sheep and other mammals might be due to the fact that the temperature of fowls is several degrees higher than that of mammals. So he inoculated some hens with anthrax bacilli and the hens had been immersed for a while in a cold bath, and next day all the hens were dead of anthrax—their blood and organs were filled with anthrax bacilli. At the same time he inoculated other hens which had not been subjected to the cold bath, and these hens suffered no ill effect. Later, in order to silence some critics who asserted that the chilling and not the germs had killed the hens, Pasteur subjected some hens to the same cold bath but did not inoculate them, and these hens remained perfectly well. In still a fourth experiment this great benefactor of the human race inoculated a hen with anthrax germs, then kept the hen in a cold bath until symptoms of anthrax became clearly apparent. Then the hen was taken from the bath, put in a chamber kept at a temperature of 55 degrees Fahrenheit and for further warmth the hen was wrapped in cotton, and she made a complete recovery. How come?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Lover Grown"

Do babies ever become "lover grown"? A very old lady tells me every time she sees me that it is caused by not handling and jiggling them enough and that I must dance my baby on my knee and rock her in my arms. (Mrs. R. A. J.)

Answer.—That is one of the superstitions which contributed toward the excessive morbidity and mortality rate among babies in the benighted period of our infancy. By that system they lost about three out of eight babies. By the modern system eight out of every nine babies survive. A nice game at which one may lay aside his dignity—and we might say every bit of dignity—is putting the company through one of these intelligence tests the magazines are running.

We expect that when Roald Amundsen gets back from the north pole he'll be able to give us an explanation for the use of summer furs. Eskimos wear 'em up there, and it is summer now. We have a hunch they do it in order to keep off the mosquitoes.

Marriage today is at best a short time lease or an order on approval. Folks that march up to the county clerk's window might as well be honest and instead of asking for a marriage license say they want a 90-day option.

PICK-UP SIGNALS

Dispatch from Paris reveals an international code for women, as follows:

Green Stone bracelet—I am single and looking for a male friend.

Sapphire bracelet—I am unhappily married.

Diamond bracelet—Money talks if you are interested in me.

Men of course soon adopt an answering code, something like this:

Rubber collar—I am single and intend to remain so.

Embroidered suspenders—I stand for anything.

Soup stains on vest—Come with me today and dine in an exclusive cafeteria.

Trousers worn at cuff—I am a widower, but I am open to conviction. ROLLO

SEA WILL GIVE FOOD TO AUTOS

Bromine Drawn by Floating Factory Will Lessen Amount of Gas Used

From The Nations Business. Industry, backed by science, has turned to the ocean for raw material. A floating factory has put to sea to draw bromine from sea water that the automobiles of the county may run with less gas.

There is plenty of wealth in sea water—that has been known for years—but the job has been to get it out at a price which would be profitable. Not so many years ago a company to get gold out of sea water was actively selling stock. And no one could dispute that there is gold in sea water, about an ounce in 5,000 tons, but the company paid no one save its promoters.

Thus far our chief products from the sea have been fish and salt, pearls and shell, kelp and sponges—valuable, but insignificant in value compared with the things that are there which we haven't touched and most of which we don't know how to touch.

Sea water isn't the same in the amount of solid matter it contains, but the makeup of this solid matter is strangely constant. There is less than 1 per cent of saline matter in sea water in the Baltic, and it runs up to 5 per cent in the Red sea. Water from the Gulf of Mexico showed a total salinity of 3.63 per cent, and the average salinity of the ocean is 3.5 per cent.

Of this saline matter, analysis showed, among other things, approximately 55 per cent chlorine, 17 per cent bromine, 30.3 per cent sodium, a little over 1 per cent of both potassium and calcium and 3.5 per cent magnesium.

If you want something more dazzling to reckon with, there are gold, silver and platinum in the sea, one investigator having found about five milligrams of gold per ton of water.

PEOPLE WERE "CAREFUL" IN MRS. ASTOR'S TIME

Society's Door Tender, In The Saturday Evening Post. Society that was as compact as a lump of sugar a generation ago is as diluted today as that lump of sugar would be if dropped into a pall of hot water.

I remember as if it were yesterday that occasion in the Astor home which resulted in the application of the term Four Hundred to society. The Astor ball was held every year on the second Monday in January.

But as the years slipped by the numbers of guests increased to about 700, not because Mrs. Astor was any less careful in scrutinizing her invitation list, but because children were growing up and eligible people from other cities were invited.

Mrs. Astor conducted herself as queen, a very gracious, kindly queen, but her frown was devastating. There would never be a map in the ballroom attired in anything a deejay less formal than full evening dress. The gowns of the women exposed not so much as an inch of their ankles and if it seemed that there was too much of a display of shoulders at least the gentlemen were as cautious in dancing with them as if those shoulders were afflicted with poison ivy.

Contrasted with the men and women who waddle and wriggle in tight embraces on our dance floors today these people who were cautiously admitted to Mrs. Astor's home seem as figures in a golden age of civility.

"I like to hunt Elephants"

"You advertise that you carry sport clothes for every imaginable sport—my pastime is hunting elephants—can you supply the outfit?"

This customer was joking—

"Well Sir," we replied, "if you are hunting to fill your trunk with real he-man apparel—YES."

"But, if you are hunting for any white elephants—you'll have to shoot in another direction."

Every piece of this sport apparel is worthy of the sport and support you wish to give it!

GRAPEFRUIT IS REALLY NEWCOMER ON TABLE

The grapefruit is a comparative newcomer among fruits, its general use, dating back scarcely more than a decade, but now so widespread in its distribution that every man, woman and child in the land consumes on an average of five grapefruit a year. This is not a large figure, except as compared with the figures of a few years ago when hardly one person in a thousand had even tasted or seen a grapefruit.

In January, while grocers were engaged in competition to sell grapefruit, that grapefruit and oranges quantities to be offered more cheaply than in many seasons, a competition in Columbus, Ind., received much publicity. A merchant offered all the grapefruit a man could eat out of hand for 20 cents. One customer ate 22 for 20 cents. One meal a year like that for every person in the United States would send the production of grapefruit to the bull side of the market in a hurry.

While grapefruit was high at the start of the season, prices being based on last year's figures, a plentiful crop has brought the price down this spring until the finest quality of this luscious breakfast fruit is sold at prices which are the most reasonable in a long time. Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, famous as a physician as well as a politician, declares that grapefruit and oranges are ideal food, because they are practically digested when they are eaten, as the digestive processes required are light.

"On this account it is immediately absorbed by the system," he says. "For young and old, citrus fruits are desirable, and because of their food value, economical."

The word chapel comes from cap, meaning a chest. It originally was applied to a chest in which the relics of a saint were deposited.

In proportion to its population, Ireland has sent more immigrants here than any other country. Norway second.

PLAYS AT H. S.
ARE PLEASING TO
AUDIENCE OF 450Three Humorous Sketches
Are Given by Pupils of
Senior Class

Kaukauna—About 450 persons attended the annual class plays given by the high school seniors Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. Probably the most humorous production was the last one act play, "The Pot-Boiler." The sketch represented the rehearsal of a new play by a playwright named "Suds" who in real life is Harold "Red" Peters. Carl Grimm was Woudby, who wanted to be a playwright and was attending the rehearsal to secure ideas.

Miss Pencil, the villainess, was Miss Marie Berndt, and Henry Radermacher was Mr. Inkwell, the villain. The part of the pretty soft voiced heroine was taken by Miss Naomi Tate who was supposed to marry the villain to have the honor of her father. Mr. Ivory whom everyone recognized as Ray Smith.

Of course the play had to have a hero who was tall in love with the heroine. His name was Mr. Ruler, a part taken by John Rohan. He arrived in the nick of time, just as they were in the movies, to rescue his love from the clutches of the villain.

"The Florist Shop," the opening play of the program, was the story of a Hebrew florist by the name of Slovisky. Cornelius Mayer, who took considerable pride in the business ability of his clerk, Maud, who off stage is Miss Frances Wodjenski. Maud was a keen reader of human nature and her knowledge of the affairs of Slovisky's customers made business very satisfactory for the proprietor.

Miss Grace Mulholland was Miss Wells, the old maid who had been engaged for 15 years and was still waiting for her lover, Mr. Jackson, until he could arrange to "get off" for a few days for the wedding. Armond Licht took the part of Mr. Jackson.

Glen Miller was Henry, the office boy, who came in for a good share of Maud's bossing and soliloquies.

"The Good Woman," the second production, was played by only three characters. Marie Berndt was Rosamund, engaged to James, a part carried by Roy Darling. Rosamund had always been a flirt but had ever managed to keep out of a scrape. Kurt Beler played the role of Gerald, the lover of previous years, who had promised to marry Rosamund after four years. The four years expired on the day Rosamund was to marry James but Gerald turned up to claim his bride in spite of the fact he did not want her. The complicated situation which arose provided a great deal of entertainment.

TRADE CLASSES
HAVING PARTIES

Kaukauna—Informal parties are being featured during the last week of the vocational day school term. Each daily group is holding its gathering on its regular class day. The term will close for the summer Friday afternoon with the presentation of a play which is being prepared under the direction of Mrs. A. T. Hudson and Miss M. Patterson.

The plan of issuing certificates has been adopted by the local school and four students will receive their papers this week. They are Peter Conrad and Arthur Gorham, machine shop, and Lawrence Kroll and Arthur Schmidt, woodworking students.

Dr. R. C. Mullenix, of Lawrence college, will deliver the commencement address. His subject has not been announced. Members of the senior class include:

Marie Berndt, Kurt Beler, Roy Darling, Walter Ditter, Sylvester Dix, Mildred Feller, Gertie Frank, Norbert Gerend, Carl Grimm, Alice Gustafson, Light, Josephine Maes, Helen McCabe, Grace Mulholland, Harold Peters, Vira Pieshek, Lorraine Rader, John Rohan, Ray Smith, Naomi Tate, Anna Toman, Marian Vandenberg, Helen Wiggers, Frances Wodjenski, Harold Coleman, William Glasheen, Irene Jacobson, Merwin Kavanagh, Cornelius Mayer, Glen Miller, Margaret DeBrue, Thelma Becker, Eva Grebe, John Jansen, Mureul Kern, Henry Radermacher, and William Woelz.

The class will be presented to the board of education and to the public by Olin G. Dryer, high school principal, and diplomas will be issued to the students by H. T. Runke, president of the board. Kurt Beler will give an address as president of the senior class.

Josephine Maes is valedictorian. She will deliver a talk on child labor. There is considerable curiosity and conjecture regarding the subject chosen by Norbert Gerend for his salutatory address. He has refused to make any comment and has sworn his coach to secrecy.

"Amazilia," "Boys of St. Mary's" and "Orphanus With His Lute" will be sung during the program by the high school girls glee club. Carl Grimm is to give a vocal solo and two selections "Old Friends So True" and "Good-Bye High School" will be sung by the boys quartet.

NEW COURSE IS
HELP TO SCHOOLSummer Normal Session More
Eagerly Sought With H. S.
Subjects

Kaukauna—W. P. Hagman, principal of Outagamie rural normal school, is receiving large numbers of applications for the summer session which opens Monday, June 22. The plan of offering high school subjects to persons who did not finish the course is being eagerly taken up by many rural school teachers.

The passage of a new law recently makes a high school education necessary for entrance into normal schools. By taking up such work during a number of summer sessions teachers may secure credits equivalent to a complete high school course which will be recognized by normal school authorities.

Just what subjects will be offered cannot be determined until the opening day of school. Demands of the students will be taken into consideration. It is quite certain, however, that work in physics will be taught. Other subjects will include various methods of teaching which are usually taken up at each summer session for the benefit of rural school teachers who wish to better their certificates.

Kaukauna—Misses Martha Van Able and Anna Wolf entertained the G. G. G. club at its last meeting of the season, Wednesday evening at Schermer's bungalow on Fox river. Eight young ladies were present. The evening was spent in playing bridge.

Mrs. C. H. L. Hamer has been confined to her home during the past ten days with an attack of pneumonia. Her condition is very much improved. Barney J. Verfurth was called to Milwaukee Wednesday morning by the serious illness of his brother, William.

Mrs. H. E. Thompson and daughter, Marcella, autoed to Nenah Tuesday evening.

Floyd Schrader left Wednesday morning for Maryland where he will attend the summer session at the University of Maryland.

FIRE IS STARTED
BY BOLT; ALARM
SIREN ALSO HITOld Call Bell Is Used When Midnight Blaze Starts at Hall at Waupaca

Waupaca—Lightning struck the flagstaff on the tower of Danes Home hall at midnight Tuesday, starting a fire in several places. The fire station is located across the street but the siren alarm placed there for a try-out in order to bring out the firemen failed to work. The lightning bolt put a transformer out of commission and no current was available to operate the motor which the siren contains. Those on hand resorted at once to the old bell, but it failed to arouse three firefighters. The fire was soon brought under control, though the entire tower was filled with smoke and firemen had to reach up from the roof with the hose lines. Total damage amounted to a few hundred dollars.

Waupaca city council met in regular session Tuesday night. Several petitions for sidewalks were read. The most important notation of the evening was a petition from Waupaca Service company asking that a representative of the company be allowed a meeting with the committee of the traction company from the streets of the city. It was decided that a hearing would be granted on Tuesday night, June 8. This step by the service company indicates a willingness on its part to meet the paving situation at once. Cooperation will remove obstacles in the way of improvement of the road.

Signatures of enough property holders on Churchill street have been secured to insure the extension of the electric power as far as the old woolen mills, where the city would like to install a night light at a dangerous curve on the road over the mill pond dam.

Carl VanWurden of Oshkosh, took two out of three falls from Bob Spurling, the Pacific coast light heavyweight champion, in a match at the armory here Tuesday night. Spurling was quite a bit heavier than his opponent and took the first fall in 29 minutes. Van Wurden came back strong and copped the next two falls in short order. In the preliminary two Oshkosh boys furnished the attraction. Stinson taking two straight flops from his fellow townsman Hutchinson.

Call Pope, 58, who resides in town of Lind, died Tuesday afternoon. He was born in New York but resided in Waupaca most of his life. Until a month ago he has been at Crowley, Mont. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at Lind Center church with interment at the church cemetery.

W. H. Hatton of New London was the donor of the trophy cups for the Waupaca-Oshkosh athletic contests held Friday May 23, in Waupaca. The three cups were greatly admired by the hundreds of people in attendance at the county rural school exercises. The trophies are intended to create greater interest in athletics in the county and incite the younger people to greater achievement and attainment.

Appreciation was extended to Mr. Hatton, a friend of the boys and girls of Waupaca. The schools winning the trophies are: Porterville, first; Northport, second; Beaver Dam, third.

CORONER'S JURY
CLEARS MOTHER
OF INFANTICIDEVerdict Says Miss Bertram's Baby Was Dead When Thrown Into Wolf River

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—A coroner's jury rendered a verdict here Wednesday afternoon declaring that the infant found floating at Big eddy in the Wolf river Saturday was given birth to by one Estelle Bertram, 13, of this city, on March 13, and that the baby after death, was thrown into Wolf river by a member of the mother's family.

The coroner's inquest was held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Otto L. Olen, of Clintonville, district attorney of Waupaca-co.

Attorney Olen was called into the case at noon Wednesday, when Chief of Police Andrew Lucke, of this city, arrested Estelle Bertram after three days of persistent investigation. The chief obtained a confession from the girl.

Miss Bertram testified during the inquest that she had wrapped up her still-born child and place it in a wicker box under her bed. She declared that she did not know where it went from there.

Her mother testified that early in April, on or about three weeks after the birth, she had in cleaning house gathered up several boxes from under the bed, and threw them into the Wolf river, wholly ignorant of the fact that there was a body in one of them. The body was in the river for about two months, and was so badly decayed when discovered, that an autopsy, to discover whether or not the child was murdered, was impossible.

Upon hearing the testimony of August Vial and George Babcock, fishermen, who found the body, and who described the size of and manner in which the body was wrapped the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the baby was dead when thrown into the river. The jury consisted of E. J. Freilinger, Earl and Gordon Melkiohn, Eber Hartquist, Wm. Stofor and John Jennings. It took the jury 15 minutes to arrive at a verdict.

District Attorney Olen immediately dropped all criminal charges against the girl, paying her a fee of $4 as a witness.

In the purchase of a washer, who, indeed, could be better qualified to pass on the merits of the many fine washers offered, than the housewife, herself. She's the expert.

Naturally we turn to her with the Maytag Gyrofoam Washer. We ask her to compare the Maytag with any or all other washers before she buys. Further than that, we ask her to actually do the biggest, most soiled washing she can gather together, and we offer her a Maytag with which to do it.

Then there will be no question unanswered—no doubt in her mind about the washer her home must have. She'll find the Maytag twice as fast as others, and much more thorough and careful in its washing. The secret, of course, is the exclusive Gyrofoam principle.

We'll bring a Maytag right to your home. Buy as the expert buys. Test it—wash with it. The only obligation is the one you owe yourself. Phone without delay.

OLD CLOCK STOPPED 158 YEARS, STARTED AGAIN

By Associated Press
London—An old clock that stopped working in 1761—158 years ago—has been started after a year's effort by a member of the Admiralty staff. The clock is about 200 years old and contains more than 800 parts which weigh about 100 pounds. It is made of brass of such fine quality that an innot of it could be beaten almost like gold leaf.

The clock was made by a carpenter named John Harrison for his Majesty George II by order of the Board of Longitude which appears to have been an admiralty commission appointed to superintend the installation of chronometers and navigation apparatus on the ships of the British navy. The board gave Harrison £1,250 for the job and he took two years to make it. It is really a clock within a clock, the smaller running for four minutes only, being wound every three and three quarters minutes by the larger clock, which has to be wound daily.

STAGE And SCREEN

"DEFYING THE LAW" FULL OF THRILLS AND CHILLS
An artist's studio, Chinese smuggling, rival love, of four men for a beautiful immigrant girl, harbor wharves, a real fishing village and scenes along the California coast form the interesting setting for the feature picture, "Defying The Law," at the New Bijou Friday and Saturday.

Renee Adoree does splendid acting in the role of Lucia, the young Italian girl. In three of her recent pictures Miss Adoree has enacted a leading role of a fishing girl. Her director in this picture, Bertram Bracken, seems to have secured the utmost from her.
Bracken, by the way, who formerly directed Theda Bara and Anita Stevart in internationally known films, makes his return to screen work with this film. He has been totally blind for several years.

In "Defying The Law," Lucia and her father find nothing but hardships in the new country instead of gold nuggets. The father, crazed with hunger throws Lucia into the sea, thinking to end her troubles. But she falls into a fishing boat and is taken by the two occupants to their village.

Here her newly awakened love for the younger of her rescuers, Guido, is interrupted by the brutal rival, Francisco, who takes the girl away to his partners in crime. Pietro and Dr.
Chong Foo, to be sold. These men carry on the nefarious trade of smuggling Chinese, under guise of an artist's studio.

Her beauty and virtue awaken Pietro's love, however, and he gives her attention and kindness instead of selling her.

The remainder of the story is a constant and death-dealing struggle between the artist, Chong Foo, the young fisherman and Francisco for love or person or both.

Low Cody, taking a part somewhat different from those in which he is usually cast, does excellent work as the weak but well intentioned Pietro.

"NEW LIVES FOR OLD" STORY OF WAR-TIME SECRET SERVICE

Snatches of the strained, hectic life of war-time pass in review in Betty Compson's newest Paramount staring production, "New Lives for Old," which will be shown Friday and Saturday at Appleton Theatre.

Companies of American and French troops in full war panoply move here and there, while around and about them flits Betty—now as a Norman peasant girl; now as a gorgeously gowned Parisian Dancer—weaving the beginning of the story net of suspicion and intrigue which culminates in a thundering climax toward the close of the story.

It's a tale of war-time secret service, with Betty as a dancer who is caught in the net and gladly sacrifices everything—even, it appears, her great love—for their country.

Clarence Sadger directed the production, which features Wallace Mac-Donald, Theodore Kosloff and Sheldon Lewis at the head of a strong supporting cast.

RADIO MAKERS MAY MIX IN BIG LAWSUIT SERIES

Almost All of America's Radio Manufacturers Are Violating Latour Patents

New York—A polite threat, hurled back at Americans by a departing Frenchman, may result in a complication of law suits and test cases such as this country has never before experienced.

The threat involves practically every radio manufacturer, jobber and dealer in the United States, of whom only four manufacturing organizations seem to be immune. All the rest, said to be violating in some form or other the famous Latour radio patents, may some day face suit for back royalties if not for all the profits they ever made from their products.

Such is the magnitude of the threat left to the discomfort of American radio men when Dr. Marius C. A. Latour departed for Paris. In his pocket were four contracts with as many radio manufacturers, for non-exclusive rights to his 80-odd patents in payment for which he received a comfortable sum.

FREE-FOR-ALL

By "non-exclusive" is meant the right of the Latour Corporation for a company had to be formed to take care of Latour's wide-spread patent rights and applications—to sell his rights to other manufacturers or to collect royalties where-ever he pleases.

That leaves the job of suing practically every radio manufacturer in the country for infringement of one or more of Latour's 80 patents, to the Latour Corporation.

Not only manufacturers, but even dealers and jobbers, may be corralled into the Latour net.

How many millions, and how many

DISCUSS SCHOOL AND LIBRARY RELATIONS

Ben J. Rohan, superintendent-elect of Appleton schools, and M. H. Small, principal of the Third ward school, discussed the relations of the public library with the various schools of the city at a meeting of the library board Tuesday. No definite plans were made, but it was suggested that the board meet again at some future date in joint session with representatives of the schools in order to formulate a course of procedure.

years of litigation, this may involve no one can say. That it will reach the highest amount ever involved in any series of law suits of any kind is suggested by the fact that practically every radio set on the market today has a part or parts said to be based on one or more of Latour's patents.

COMBINE FOR FIGHT

These patents cover parts and operations of such a wide scope and of such significance in proper radio reception that there is hardly a loop-hole left for an American radio manufacturer to free himself of them.

However, rumblings of discontent, of test cases and of combinations of independents to fight Latour and his licensees are already heard from afar.

Even the four large corporations already licensed by Latour do not expect the courts to uphold all of his 80 patents.

COUNCIL VOTES PAVEMENT ON S. APPLETON HILL

OWNER OF MILL DEMANDS CITY KEEP PROMISE

Aldermen Debate Bridge Construction but Adjourn Without Action

Plans and specifications for paving S. Appleton-st hill from W. Lawrence-st to Prospect-ave were adopted by the city council Wednesday night, and the city clerk instructed to advertise for bids, after William C. Wing, president of the Fox River Paper Co., had presented his objections to continued deferral of the project. Mr. Wing also requested that the bridge over the canal north of the mill be repaired or a new one built to furnish fire protection for the mill buildings, but no action was taken on this matter. A heated discussion between Mr. Wing and Alderman Mike Steinhauer arose during the meeting as to who is responsible for building and maintaining the bridge, there being some doubt as to the ownership of the right-of-way there.

HAD CITY PROMISE

Mr. Wing was given the floor after the matter of paving the Appleton-st hill had been referred to the committee of the whole. "I do not know what it means to refer this matter to the committee of the whole," he began, "but it seems to me it has been deferred long enough. For four years this question has been referred to someone or other, and after all that time no action has been taken." He told the council that the company, of which he is president had paid $4,500 for paving the roadway around the mill office four years ago with the understanding that the hill would be paved the next year. The city accepted the company's money, he said, but up to now had done nothing to keep its promise. Consequently, although pavement had been provided at the foot of the hill, every rain brought a flood of mud from the unpaved hill to the pavement.

"During the past three years," he continued, "the Fox River Paper Co. has paid 5.1 per cent of the city's taxes, and it seems to me we are entitled to some consideration. In spite of this, we can't get fire protection nor action on the paving of the hill, and we have no other remedy but for immediate action. The company has done its share, and now I should like to know the attitude of the council on this matter."

GET FAIR DEAL

Stating that this was the first time he had heard of this problem, Alderman Mark Catlin said that if the facts were as represented, the mill should by all means be given a fair deal. He stated that on day last week while he had been inspecting the municipal swimming pool, he had noticed and commented on the mud washed down the hill to the pavement about the office building. "When I voted against paving the hill this year, I did so unwittingly," he confessed.

Alderman C. F. Smith then admitted that it was on his motion that Appleton-st hill was omitted from the paving program. He said that four years ago he had been in favor of paving it, but that he objected this year because he had not been prepared for it. In view of the facts presented by Mr. Wing, however, he said he was willing to go ahead with the paving of the hill if the council favored it.

Alderman Fiedler and Thompson bore out Mr. Wing's statements and urged that his requests be complied with, but Alderman Steinhauer objected to constructing and maintaining the bridge leading over the canal at the city's expense. He said that one side of the canal was private property, and that if the city built the bridge it would close it at any time. At the time that the Pearl-st hill was paved, he stated, the city had given for certain other property.

WON'T BE BLUFFED

Mr. Wing denied this. He said he had spoken of this before with Mr. Steinhauer, and that he wished to secure his rights peaceably but would under no circumstances be bluffing. "If the mill should burn down the city would bear a great responsibility," he stated, "and believe me, that load would be a heavy one. I have it upon excellent legal authority that the mill is not encroaching upon city property."

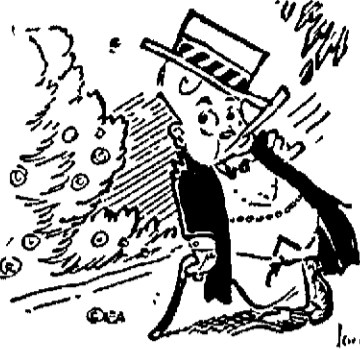

After a long dispute between Alderman Steinhauer and Mr. Wing, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., suggested that the best thing to do would be to build the bridge and settle the question of ownership later in view of the fact that it was necessary for the safety of the mill. Mr. Wing said that if it was only a question of the right-of-way over the bridge he would gladly relinquish his rights, for he knew that the city had a right-of-way there.

Alderman McGilgan who had moved to have the city attorney investigate the situation, withdrew his motion when the majority of aldermen agreed that the city owned the right-of-way, and the matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

When the committee rendered its report, however, no mention was made of the matter of the bridge, but the paving plans drawn up by the city engineer were adopted and the clerk instructed to advertise for bids. The board of public works then will assess benefits and damages against the abutting property, and after the usual procedure the street will be paved.

LITTLE JOE

YOU CAN ALWAYS TELL IT ISN'T A WEED WHEN THERE'S A RADISH HANGING ON THE END OF IT.

WANT PROPERTY ASSESSED ON ITS VALUE IN MARKET

Tax Commission Holds True Value Is Only Fair Basis of Fixing Assessments

The Wisconsin Tax Commission, alive to the fact that ever increasing taxes make more important their distribution, has inaugurated a campaign for better equalization in assessments, according to Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes for Outagamie co.

The commission began the work through appeals made to the local assessors at their annual meetings during April. These meetings were addressed by Commissioner Charles D. Rosa and Field Agent Pearce Tomkins. They insisted that no matter how far and just the laws relating to assessment and taxation of general property might be, no matter how well the state and county equalization in the final analysis state, county, school and local taxes are paid on the basis of values placed by the local assessor. If the local assessor falters or fails, if he is incompetent, unfair or dishonest, the expense of government are unfairly distributed.

Cooperation and a more active interest on the part of property owners are essential to the success of the commission's program. The placing of proper assessment values is a difficult task. Men are called to serve as assessors with little special training, in the majority of districts. Property owners should assist in every way. They should demand and insist on assessments made according to law.

In a spirit of fair play, in the interest of good government, for the good of all the property owners of Outagamie-co., the commission solicits the aid of the taxpayers in helping its assessors to assess property on the only fair basis, its true market value, Mr. Toonen said.

American Legion Camp Is Ideally Located For Rest

Milwaukee—With the dedication of Camp American Legion at Tomahawk Lake on June 14, Wisconsin will again take the lead in the work of rehabilitating the disabled veterans of the World War, state Legion officials here declared, in announcing the completion of the program of ceremonies for the dedication.

The program as outlined by those who are in charge, will include a basket lunch on the day of the dedication. Several American Legion Bands will furnish music for the affair. It is expected that more than 400 Legionnaires will participate. The dedication will be preceded by a meeting of the state executive committee of the Legion.

MEETS PRESSING NEED

Since the close of the war, hundreds of men have been discharged from hospitals with the advice from the staff physicians to get out into the open. The advice was not taken because the average former service man has no money to spend upon a vacation. As a result they went back to their old jobs and within a matter of months were back at the hospital with broken health again.

At the state Legion convention at Beloit in 1922, it was proposed that the Legion establish a camp in the north woods. Several sites were selected and presented to the state executive committee of the Legion for its approval. Finally the committee approved a site in Vilas-co. and started plans for building and outfitting, only to learn that Camp Minne-Wawa, an exclusive girls' camp on Tomahawk lake, was for sale. The fact that Minne-Wawa was fully equipped and no time would be lost in erecting buildings and outfitting for the veterans went far toward deciding the committee to abandon the Vilas-co. site and purchase that at Tomahawk lake.

Negotiations were completed early this year and plans were made to open the camp during the spring. Following the purchase of the site it was decided that citizens of the state would be asked to help in the maintenance through subscribing to the American Legion $5,000.00 Endowment fund for child welfare and rehabilitation work.

Income from one third of the entire amount raised in Wisconsin will be set aside for the rehabilitation camp.

Two-thirds will be devoted to the national child welfare and rehabilitation program.

IDEALLY SITUATED

The new camp is located in the park region of Wisconsin, on land owned by the estate for its forest preserve. The surrounding country is wild for miles in every direction and is dotted with beautiful lakes within easy walking distance.

Located 3½ miles north of Rhineland and about 12 miles southeast of Minocqua, the camp tract is naturally isolated, but easily reached by either land or water. There is a natural waterway to the large lakes which have 50 miles of shoreline, touching Tomahawk Lake station, Minocqua and Hazelhurst villages. Big Carr lake is springfed, without inlet or outlet. Its waters are clear as crystal and always clean, with an excellent sandy beach.

Nestled among the pines, on the well drained ridge between the two lakes are 13 sleeping cabins or log construction. There are too a number of tents and tent platforms to take care of any overflow from the log structures. More cabins will be constructed as needed.

BUILDINGS MODERN

The main or administration building is said to be one of the largest and most massive log structures of its kind in upper Wisconsin. It is built of large pine and hemlock logs cut from the surrounding forest and from Norway's taken from the lakes. Its great size makes it an ideal structure for Legion activities, for it is 123 feet long by 42 feet wide, with an addition for kitchen, ice house and serving room, 42 feet by 24 feet.

The building contains a dining room and recreation hall that will seat 400, is lighted by its own lighting plant, heated with a hot water system and furnished with all modern conveniences found in the cities.

The camp has two playgrounds and a third in the course of construction. The large playgrounds located in a ravine below the main cabin is surrounded by large shade trees. At one end is a fine tennis court, the other is graded for an athletic field where setting up exercises are held and basketball games are played.

COUNCIL AT SEA ON COPS' PLEA FOR PAY RAISE

Decision Is Deferred—Some Argue Firemen Should Have Increase Too

Neenah—Neenah police department did not receive the $10 increase in salary asked by the police commission in the Wednesday evening meeting of the city council, and will have to wait for a decision until a full council is present.

The matter of a raise of $10 a month for each of the police force created no little discussion during this meeting as there were aldermen who opposed such a move if the men of the fire department were not treated likewise.

The heated discussion started when Commissioner Leo Schubart asked that the request of the commission be granted in view of the fact that Neenah had a 100 per cent efficient police force working 12 hours a day the year around and overtime if needed. Comparing the police to the firemen, Mr. Schubart pointed out that as the firemen each had a day off in every three days and also had 10 or 15 days' vacation during the year and could retire at any time during the night they so desired while the police worked day and night by shifts, Sundays included and had only the regular 10-day vacation once a year. Officers also purchase their own uniforms from the $125 a month which they now receive.

By some it was suggested to cut the working hours down to eight if the commission thought the men were working too long hours. This did not meet with the approval of the commission as more men would be required and the city would have to expend more money.

The matter was an important one and it was thought best to hold it open until all aldermen were present for a final decision.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—The Philomathion literary society of the high school is arranging for a picnic June 11 in Riverside park. The arrangements include a picnic supper furnished by the girl members and a dance in the park pavilion.

The staff of the "Cub" the high school paper, is to meet Friday evening in the Sign of the Fox for a banquet. A dinner will be served at 6:30 after which short talks will be given to instruct the young people who will have charge of the paper next year by those of the staff who are graduating.

Pupils of Mrs. P. L. Callahan's dancing class, are rehearsing for a prolog to precede the picture in Neenah theatre next Monday evening. The class numbers 15 who are efficient in the art of dancing.

Invitations have been issued by Harry DeWolf, Menasha, for the wedding of his daughter, Halie DeWolf, to Howard Nussbicker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nussbicker of Neenah. The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock Wednesday, June 17 in the Congregational church. The young couple will reside in Appleton after their marriage. Mr. Nussbicker is connected with the Schaefer hardware store in that city.

Honoring of their birthday anniversaries occurring in the month of June, Misses Emma Discher, Marjory Hume and Emily Lane entertained the S. M. S. club at a five course dinner Wednesday evening in the gold room of Hotel Conway, Appleton. Dancing followed the dinner.

ACTION DELAYED ON FINANCING OF NEW SCHOOLS

Resolution Was Not Ready for Council—Inquire About Bridge

Neenah—The rising of the tax levy to meet the $500,000 appropriation for a new high school and ward school, did not come up in the Wednesday evening meeting of the city council as expected. The city attorney did not have the resolution in shape for presentation owing to the board of education just receiving plans for the latter building, the cost of which could not be ascertained until Wednesday evening when the plans were shown to the aldermen. Nevertheless an estimate cost of the ward building will be $65,000.

Plans for the new bridge over the Fox River in this city have been in the hands of the highway commission for some time, brought out in inquiries from aldermen as to why some action had not been taken. Mayor Sunde stated that he had endeavored to get some satisfaction on the subject from members of the commission while they were in Appleton recently but they "were as tight as hair on a dog," he claimed. The city attorney's opinion brought out the fact that it would be useless to try to rush the commission and that should the city go ahead and build the bridge, state aid would be at a premium insofar as assisting in the work.

"We have to wait until they get ready to assist us," reported Attorney Kelly.

The cost of maintaining the city since the last meeting of the council was shown by the finance committee's report as $9,663.63.

Vacancies were filled on both the school board and library commission. Mrs. J. F. Gillingham and E. A. Gillingham were elected to succeed themselves on the former board and T. B. Blair and G. W. Werner were appointed by the mayor to succeed themselves on the latter.

Although the council voted at the last meeting to purchase a street flusher, no appropriation was made at that time. At Wednesday evening's meeting $2,000 was set aside for such a flusher and the committee on streets, highways and bridges deemed advisable to purchase. The same committee was asked to secure plans for a suitable building in which to place the trucks and tools used by the street commissioner.

The dangers of obstructing alleys with automobiles was shown in the discussion by the number of cars which are parked daily in the alleys, the street leading to the Neenah Shoe Co. plant. In case of a fire it would be impossible for the fire department to get to burning property. It was said. This brought out the congested condition of West Doty-ave. and in order to relieve this congestion an ordinance was passed allowing parking only on the south side of that avenue. A similar ordinance will be drawn for the Shoe factory alley.

GIVE ENGINEER RAISE

A 15-day vacation instead of the present 10-day one was granted each engineer during the year and a raise of from $1,800 to $2,400 a year was granted to city engineer.

Roadies or rowdies will no longer be tolerated in the city's parks or at the bath houses as police were given instructions to patrol the parks and rid them of any objectionable persons. Charles Blomk was given police power to assist the bathhouse caretakers in keeping order.

Since tax levying always gives chance for dispute, council appointed the board of review consisting of the mayor, clerk, attorney, treasurer and

How to Speedily Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight.

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting, stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to state medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask Schlicht Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any regular druggist for a box of McCord's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Zemlock, clerk, and William Marty, alderman, who represented the city of Neenah. In the recent convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities in Madison, Disposal of sewage, issued by the city and the softening of water by the city, were discussed on the convention floor, were among the chief items of interest.

ORDER STOP-GO LIGHT ON CORNER

Council Will Try Signal for 30 Days and Buy It if Satisfactory

Neenah—A stop and go light is to be installed at the corner of Wisconsin-ave. and Commercial-st. for 30 days trial. If it proves successful and up to expectations of the council, it will be purchased by the city as a permanent signal.

The steady increase of traffic at this corner has made some kind of signal necessary for regulation and with this condition in view, the city council in session Wednesday evening gave orders to have one placed on trial.

The question of a standard signal such as will be adopted sooner or later by the government was brought up, but the aldermen were assured that the one with the red, amber and green lights would be the one suitable for all times.

The cost of the signal if accepted by the city, will be $335 which includes a light for each corner post.

APPLETON, OSHKOSH SPEEDERS ARE FINED

How To Use Cold-Pack For Berries

BY SISTER MARY

There's no denying that preserves add much to warm biscuits on a cold winter's night, and every woman wants a few glasses of "home-made" strawberry preserves on her emergency shelf for special occasions.

And strawberry jam is not to be despised. The taste is just the same as the preserve, but less choice fruit can be used to make it.

Plain canned strawberries are delicious in all sorts of puddings when the fresh fruit is out of season and are well worth the effort and time it takes to can them.

If you have always canned your strawberries by the open-kettle method, try the cold-pack this year and see if you don't like them better.

For one thing there's no juice left over when you cold-pack. And while the juice is delicious and adds much to a fruit drink, it's something to take care of at the end of a more or less tiresome task.

COLD-PACK METHOD FOR STRAWBERRIES

Wash, hull and sort berries. Save the choicest berries for preserves and the small imperfect fruit for jam. The average fruit that requires no cutting away of ready portions or soft spots is used for canning.

Place berries lightly in sterilized jars. The berries should be packed as tightly as possible without crushing. Fill jars to within 1/2 inch from the top. Adjust rubbers.

Boil three cups of granulated sugar and two cups of water for about six minutes or until the sirup is thick and "piles up" over the edge of a spoon. Pour this sirup over berries in jars, filling the cans within 1/4 inch from the top.

Place in boiler half full of boiling water. Add boiling water to cover cans by at least an inch and process sixteen minutes. Count the time from the minutes the water begins to boil after the cans are put into it.

Remove from water, seal and turn upside down to cool.

Strawberries canned this way are not crushed and cooked "to pieces" as they are in the open kettle method.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES (SUNSHINE)

Wash and hull berries. Drain well and weigh. Use 3/4 pound of sugar to one pound of berries. Put a layer of fruit in preserving kettle and sprinkle with a layer of sugar. Crush with a potato masher. Add another layer of fruit and sugar and crush. Continue to add layer for layer of sugar and fruit without crushing. Put over a low fire and bring slowly to the boiling point. Let boil up once and again. Simmer for five minutes. Turn out on large platters, cover with glass and let stand in the direct sunshine for twelve hours. It will be necessary to wipe the glass frequently. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffin.

Household Hints

GOOD DUSTCLOTHS

Old velvet and velveteen make the best possible dustcloths.

KEEP KNIVES SHARP

Keep your carving tools in good shape. Many a good roast or well-cooked steak has been mutilated through carving with a dull knife.

COOK PEANUTS

Peanuts may be cooked very much like beans, and when baked they are very good.

SERVE VEGETABLE

With fish serve vegetables with a distinct flavor such as cucumbers, peppers, beets, carrots or onions.

USE CAUTION

Never use a damp cloth on gilt enamel furniture of picture frames. The less they are handled the better.

For spots dampen a soft sponge in warm alcohol, diluted with water, and apply very lightly. See that the sponge is merely damp, not wet.

The more I see of modern young women, John, the more I am confounded, to say that I am glad my life is nearly over. I do not think that I can bear to live much longer in a world populated by these girls and their progeny. Of course, I know that you are very much in love with Leslie. The reason I know this is because since you have been married to her you have paid no more attention to me than you did before. A mother does not expect her son to be as thoughtful of her unless there is some woman about who can tell him what a mother's heart needs and desires.

I have been greatly disappointed in Leslie. I can not understand why she makes friends of such women as Mrs. Walter Burke and even moving picture actresses while she leaves her own husband's mother completely out of her life.

I expect, of course, that she feels that she has done her duty when she provided for me a nurse but I sometimes feel that Miss Anderson is more of a keeper than a friend. She seems to thwart me on every occasion and if I do not give in to her she threatens to leave. She knows I could not get along without her.

I am rather curious to know if you really dictated that letter to me. If you did you will know that Mrs. Atherton said that the hundred dollars a week was in addition to the salary that was paid to Miss Anderson and the rent of my rooms at the hotel.

I do not think I will stay at the hotel much longer. Miss Anderson seemed to think the other day that I might enjoy being in New York for a few weeks. Said she knew of a quiet place where we might go and that I would probably have a good time at the theaters.

I told her that I did not care for the modern theater at all, that I had been brought up to feel that the sight of half-dressed women and more or less drunken men was nothing that a decent woman should put herself in a way of seeing.

I would like very much to come over to Pittsburgh. I think that Leslie should consult me about arranging her house. She knows that I have been a housekeeper for many years and she has always admired my beautiful old colonial furniture. Had she been really a daughter to me I had intended to give it all to her.

But not knowing whether my cherished family heirlooms would look well in her scheme of household decorations, I of course can not really feel that she would care for them. You may tell Mrs. Atherton for me that I would rather not have a letter from my son if it has to be dictated to her or to any other stenographer and I shall insist, John, upon your taking the time to write me in long-hand in the future. Affectionately your mother, MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.) TOMORROW—Letter from John Alden Prescott, to Sydney Carlton.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Umbrella Maker and the Umbrella Mender

"There are two people we must see today," said the March Hare. "Very important persons, indeed."

"Who are they?" asked Nick. "The Umbrella Maker and the Umbrella Mender," said the March Hare. "April showers are coming. Please get on, both of you, and we will go and see them."

The Twins jumped on the hare's back and away he hopped. By and by they came to the place where the Umbrella Maker and the Umbrella Mender lived side by side, like Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee.

The two old men, like the December boys, were always quarreling, although they were the fastest of friends.

The Umbrella Maker said that the Umbrella Maker traded such good umbrellas that he never had any work to do.

And the Umbrella Mender said that the Umbrella Mender mended them so well that they never wore out, and so people never needed new ones.

And so, as neither of them had anything to do, they decided to spend their time playing chess.

One day they played in the Umbrella Maker's house and the next day they played in the Umbrella Mender's house.

And so, things went on, and all the umbrellas in the world were getting lost, or worn out, or being forgotten, and scarcely anybody had one. Scarcely anybody.

February was cold and bright—and sunny—so nobody complained. March was cold and dusty and blowy. Still nobody complained. For nobody needs umbrellas much in March. That is, not awfully.

So the two Umbrella Men sat and played chess, and played chess, and day after day passed. Mister Sprinkle Blow, the weather-man, must have gotten his dates mixed up on his calendar, up in the sky, and though it said April 1st, instead of what it was only the 21st of March.

"The world is pretty dirty after a hard winter, so I'll give it a thorough washing," said he. And he rolled his barrel marked "Regular Pour-downs" to the edge of a cloud and turned on the spout.

Down came the rain like a fire-hose.

Many Ways Of Making Good Bread

During the winter months we eat heartily of all kinds of heavy meats and vegetables, but Spring with its warm bright days and cool nights makes the appetite more keen and every one welcomes the fresh fruits and vegetables which the market offers together with the lighter breads, hot biscuits, short cakes and fruit muffins. After all there is nothing well like better to make our meal complete than a slice of fresh bread, which, with a serving of meat, one or two fresh vegetables and possibly a salad, makes a complete meal unless desired to be the addition of a sweet. Hot breads, if carefully prepared and baked, are an excellent change for any meal, for breads are rich in carbohydrates as well as proteins and fat. The rare one of the most perfect foods, supplying heat, energy and tissue building materials to the body.

School children must be up early in the morning and have an early breakfast. The mother, besides preparing the breakfast for the family, must often prepare a school lunch, all of which must be accomplished in a short space of time. She doesn't have much time aside from her other routine work during the rest of the day to give proper thought to the variety and wholesomeness of these meals. The variety of her supplies too, are of time limited if she does not live near a market or grocery as is often the case if she lives in a small suburb or on a farm.

The wide variety of baking powder breads affords a pleasant change and a tempting supplement to the raised or yeast breads which are less varied. For the school lunch, nuts, raisins, prunes, or apples may be added to any of the plain, quick bread recipes, lending a delicacy and flavor that will be greatly enjoyed by the children, and the grown-ups as well. These are inexpensive, may be kept indefinitely, and are wholesome and nutritious.

During the spring weather, especially if the nights are cool, the housewife may prepare biscuits or other quick breads which she wishes to have for breakfast, the night before, lay a damp cloth over the top and place them in a cool place overnight. They are, then, all ready to put into the oven in the morning, and the time, heretofore taken up in preparing them, devoted to other work. If this is new to you, try it and see how successfully it works out.

At the same time the biscuit or muffin ingredients are put together, if an extra amount is made, adding to this a little more sweetening, an egg, some fruit nuts or flavoring, and baked while the biscuits are being baked, the children may have for their lunch this fruit or nut bread, a delicacy which will be fresh and tasty at this same time making very little extra work.

Umbrella Mender played right on. The Maker mended a pawn and jumped a bishop and took it. Then the Mender moved a knight one square straight and one square easterly and took the Maker's queen.

The Maker was so mad he nearly had a fit. And they began to quarrel as usual.

They never saw the rain. And not six good umbrellas in the world that hadn't been lost, or broken or forgotten.

Lividity, lividity came the March Hare and the Twins. They reached the Umbrella Maker's house just as the pourdown started. And all the time the old men were quarreling, they kept knocking to get in.

Finally they just had to walk in. And then the March Hare gave them a piece of his mind. "Being a little piece of it about quite a silly game—although it was a better day for ducks."

The Umbrella Maker and the Umbrella Mender put their chess-board away and got right to work.

Health Hints

HAND TO MOUTH DANGER

"I am only talking of the Smiths because they seem to be the worst offenders against cleanliness of the hands and mouth," replied Mrs. Mann to her husband's question.

"The fact is, it is surprising how often any person's fingers go to the mouth and nose."

"One of the first things a baby learns is to 'place its fist in its mouth.' The habit sticks, and when the baby grows up, not only the fingers, but scores of other things are foolishly stuck into the mouth."

"The result is that is the person is infected, germs get smeared all over the person's hands or any other object that is handled."

"Then the person shakes hands with another person, or handles an object which falls into the hands of another person, and then this other person sticks the object in his mouth, or sticks his fingers in his mouth."

Saliva moistened fingers of the peddler arrange his fruit. Waitresses in restaurants infect glasses, the milk man's thumb gets in his measure, the reader moistens the pages of his book and the street car conductor's germs-laden saliva is on tickets money and transfers.

"Is it any wonder that there is so much sickness?"

TWICE IN THIS WOMAN'S LIFE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her from Sickness to Health

Ellensburg, Washington—"When I was first coming into womanhood I suffered terribly every month. My mother did everything she could think of, so she took me to several doctors and they only helped me a little. Mother was talking to another lady about my condition and she told mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mother had six bottles and at the end of the first month I was much better, so I kept on taking it until I had no more pains. When I got married and had my first child I was in terrible pain so that it was impossible for me to do my housework. I thought of how the Vegetable Compound had been of so much benefit to me when I was a girl, so I went to Perier's Drug Store and got six bottles. It sure did help me and I still take it. I am a well woman today and I can't say too much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I will answer any letter that comes to me to answer about what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. WILLIAM CARVER, R. F. D. No. 2, Ellensburg, Wash.

TUBE DRESSES BRING OUT EACH CURVING LINE

Away from draping and in the direction of the tubular dress run the modern styles. But, oh, beware of the tube and don't let it rule your figure into expressing mad line just because it is stylish and smart! Of course, we American women are built on tubular lines as a rule. No one can deny that, and perhaps for that reason the style of the modern uninterrupted line of dress has gained so much headway. Those of us who are slender and slight with no protuberances anywhere have been reveling for a long time in this fashion. We are loathe to let it go. But, it does seem to get plainer and plainer as to line, with less to relieve it for those of us who might need a little help.

However, when you are thinking of treating yourself to a tubular frock of any sort, try it on before the mirror and face your lines separately and as a whole with the utmost frankness and honesty. Don't do yourself an injustice by wearing a frock that will accentuate some points which under other circumstances, might be assets instead of drawbacks.

FLATTENING SURFACES
Now there are some means and ways that will help the tube dress to look right when its possibilities for doing so might be doubted. When hips are just a trifle too large and succeed in making the figure look bulky, then try a rubber corset made to fit well down over the hips and provided with a lacing which makes it possible to draw in the fullness of figure. In that particular to a straighter and more flowing line. This idea has been worked with great success in numerous cases, especially where the flaring out of the hip line had not grown to too great an extent. The fact is that some girls are sure their hip lines are all right until they try these very plain dresses, and then they find that they never did fully appreciate what their own figures could look like under certain circumstances.

Yes, for the tubular styles not only corsets but brasieres are almost necessities. The dresses demand underlying surface that are uninterrupted, that have easy, flowing lines, and only something in the way of support or confining garments can do the trick at all successfully.

FRENCH DON'T MIND
There is a brand new fashion designed to relieve the tubular dress somewhat. It is the little apron that goes across the front and ties in the back or just simply decided to end at the side lines. You will be surprised to see how very much this accessory serves to relieve any tightness of appearance on the severely tubularized frock. It swings loose and lets the line of the dress remain in severe simplicity underneath its folds and still it adds a gracefulness which is impossible to obtain with the tightness of the original garment left entirely unrelieved.

Of course in France, where the tubular dress was originated, they do not so much mind the appearance of hips and stomachs in unrelieved evidence, but here in this country the standards are different and we do prefer a little flatness of surface before we wear anything of the severe sort that is called tubular. So we have to plan and plot until we find a way to express the style and to carry it off in the way that we believe best.

Leading Giants To Start St. Louis Series Minus Capt. Frisch And M'Graw

Muesel Gets Fifth Homer of and Fifteenth of Year to Beat Senators

By Associated Press
New York—Shifting of the scenes in the National League Thursday re-opened the baseball conflict between the east and west on western ground. The champion Giants four and one half games in front of the pack open a series in St. Louis without Manager McGraw, and Captain Frisch. Both remained behind because of influenza.

Brooklyn is at Chicago. Philadelphia is at Pittsburgh, in the fight for third place, while Cincinnati and Boston wrangle over fourth position. Only two games were played in the senior circuit Wednesday. Jimmy Ring stood off the Braves at Philadelphia, 5 to 4, and Leo Dickerman limited the Reds to four hits as St. Louis took an easy victory, 7 to 2.

Babe Ruth went hitless in six turns at the plate, but a home run by Bob Meusel—his fifth of the week and fifteenth of the season—gave the Yankees a six to four decision over Washington after 12 innings in which 24 players were used.

Washington's defeat prevented the leading Athletics from being crowned as the result of a reverse in Boston at the hands of the Red Sox, 4 to 2.

Poor outfielding and weak pitching lost another game for the heavy hitting Detroit Tigers, the White Sox winning 12 to 7, while three Cleveland pitchers failed to stop the Browns from taking their third straight, 7 to 6.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

It is rumored that Corey, full gardener will sign up with the Sheboygan Chairs as the result of the Pail breakdown. If this is true the Chairs will have as good an outfield as any club in the State League and the entire Midwest. Buddy Sillico, Tommy Heilberger and Wilson are wonderful gardeners and Eddie Corey is one of the sweetest sticklers and flycatchers seen in northern Wisconsin in some time.

Mandy Brooks is another valley boy who has found the big show to his liking. The former Oakkesh-boy jumped from the valley game to the big tent in two years with Columbus in the American Association his only big stop. The other day he won a perfectly good ball game for the Cubs by driving in three runs on one of his bingles.

Here's the "rumored" dope on some of the other Menasha-Neenah men after the big pickup. Patcher Frisch may accompany Corey to Sheboygan. If this happens the Chairs will have Lathrop, Friday, Braun and Marks to send against the league teams which is quite some array of hurling strength. Capt. Joey Muench may go to La Crosse, Wurth to Reedsburg, Worden to Merrill and pitcher Al Gould to the Pacific Coast League. Johnson also is seeking a league berth.

He'll meet Jack Beresford, Olympic champion in the Diamond Sculls titular race in England on June 20. He won the right to try for the honors by beating Garrett Gilmore and Paul Costello in the Philadelphia Gold Cup finals on the Schuylkill River the other day. Hoover was Diamond Sculls king in 1922.

BANKERS, MEYER PRESS IN TWILIGHT BATTLE

Meyer Press Co. loser in the first game of the Twilight League against the Appleton Chair Co. will have a chance to even the score and go into a tie for second place Friday afternoon when they meet the Bankers at Jones park. The Bankers also will have a chance for a raise in the league standings as they are tied with the Footfitters for second place and a victory will put them alone within reach of first. The teams are evenly matched with the odds slightly in favor of the more-experienced Bankers, and a good game is assured.

Buenos Aires—Luis Firpo is unable for the present, because of other engagements here to consider an offer for a bout with the winner of the Remak-Godfrey fight in San Francisco Saturday.

Baseball Simplified

By Billy Evans

There are runners on first and third and one out. The batsman hits a long fly to deep center field. The runner on third dashes for the plate the moment the ball strikes the field. The runner on first feels that he can easily beat a throw to the plate if the ball is caught and holds his base.

The runner on first is certain the fielder will not make the catch and will throw the ball to the pitcher. The runner on third dashes for the plate the moment the ball strikes the fielder's hands. The runner, originally on first, is almost to third base when the ball is caught.

The center fielder throws the ball to the second baseman, who touches that base. The runner, originally on first, trying to regain that base after the catch, is still several yards from second on his way back when the ball is held on that base.

The second baseman then rolls the ball in the direction of the pitcher and the team in the field starts for the bench, believing the side has been retired. The batsman continues back to first base.

Did the run count and was the side retired?

HE'S NEW PILOT OF CARDS

ROGERS HORNSBY

Presenting Mr. Rogers Hornsby, newly appointed manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, who has replaced Branch Rickey in that capacity. Hornsby, as you no doubt know, is the leading clubber and star second baseman of the National League. He's led the circuit in batting for the past five seasons. He's out to beat Cobb's high mark of nine straight. Hornsby came to the Cards back in 1915. And he's been improving ever since. Last year he turned in a hitting percentage of .424, the best in modern times. As a pilot he got off on the right foot by winning his first game.

His entrance into the managerial ranks makes seven player-pilots now in the majors.

Badger Crew Picked Among Leaders At Poughkeepsie

New York—Washington, Navy, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania are expected to supply the interest and furnish most of the competition in the coming intercollegiate rowing championships on the Hudson River course at Poughkeepsie, June 22.

The rest of the field is very ordinary. Columbia is terrible. Cornell and Syracuse are only fair neither being up to the class of former years.

Washington is said to be a great crew and it must have had class to give such a bad beating to a California crew that was reported to have been a very good eight. Washington beat California by something like fifteen lengths in the race for the Pacific coast championship.

Until recently Washington had been a general choice in the east and would have carried heavy odds in the betting. The Navy crew now looks like the "hope" of the east, but the Washington eight will start the race as the favorite.

There will be considerable interest in the Wisconsin crew because it is the sole hope of the middle west in the big race and the only representative of the Big Ten. The Badgers rowed a fine race last year, when they placed second and they are sure to give the favorites a battle in this year's contest.

With characteristic luck, the Cardinal eight drew No. 7 lane in the drawings, but this will hardly affect their showing much as they were away on the outside last year also. "Dad" Vail, who tutors Wisconsin's crews, is one of the smartest heads in the business, and he will doubtless bring a finely conditioned outfit east. He has only three regulars back from his 1924 eight.

Rowing recently against Harvard and Syracuse on the Seven river, the Navy eight, a big rangy power, full crew made a new course record of 9:25.45 for two miles and won easily pulling a stroke of 38. Critics who saw the race said that the crew which young Dick Glendon turned out is almost as good as his father's Olympic champions of 1912, and his intercollegiate champions of 1921 and 1922. The Glendon system from suits is an established success, and young Glendon merely picked up where his father left off.

Pennsylvania has a great coach in Jim Rice, who was named when Joe Wright resigned because of differences with the graduate rowing committee. What Penn. does at Poughkeepsie depends largely upon what Rice is able to do with the crew in the last two weeks.

The runner had a right to continue on to first after the ball had been rolled into the infield. He was safe at that base. The run, of course, counted.

TOMMY, GENE TO GET $4,400 A MINUTE

New York—Payment on a basis of more than $4,400 a minute will be made Gene Tunney and Tommy Gibbons for their fifteen round heavy-weight battle Friday night at the Polo grounds if the bout goes to the limit, it is estimated.

The advance sale of tickets indicates an attendance of 60,000 and receipts of $400,000. A 30 per cent gate will be the share of Gibbons, giving him $120,000. Tunney's share will be $80,000 representing 20 per cent of the receipts.

The fighters are resting Thursday after a month's preparation for the battle, which marks the opening major outdoor clash of heavyweights this season in the elimination series by which promoters hope to produce an outstanding challenger to meet Jack Dempsey.

Many believe that the match will be so close that the position of the judges will not be envied.

Paris—Susanne Lenglen lost her first game of the 1925 French open championship, but she defeated Evelyn Collier of England 6-0, 6-2.

APPLETON "Y" NOTED ALL OVER FOR LEADERSHIP

100 Men and Women at Annual Meeting Hear History of Local Association

Appleton Y. M. C. A. celebrated the completion of another successful fiscal year of work with a banquet in the gymnasium Wednesday evening, attended by more than 100 men and women. H. F. Lindsay, state president of the Y. M. C. A., paid high tribute in an address to the work of Judson G. Rosebush in international circles, and praised the Appleton association for giving to state work the help of such men as F. J. Harwood, local president, and George F. Werner, general secretary. Judson G. Rosebush spoke concerning a journey into Mexico in the interest of the Y. M. C. A., as recounted in this paper. Reminiscences at the birth of the association were given by Mr. Harwood.

Vocal solos were furnished during the serving of the dinner by Carl S. McKee and others. There were given between addresses by George Nixon. The invocation and benediction were pronounced by Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the First Congregational church. Mr. J. Harwood acted as toastmaster and George F. Werner gave a general outline of the summer swimming classes, urging a large enrollment.

GRATEFUL TO FOUNDERS

Mr. Harwood declared in his history of the Y. M. C. A. that gratitude was due Dr. J. T. Reeve, George C. Jones and George F. Peabody, all now deceased, for the fund they established in 1907 to purchase a Y. M. C. A. site. When it was found in 1913 that 250 boys were leaving the boys' brigade because they had reached 17 years of age, and had no place to go but possibly the saloon, the Young Men's Sunday Evening club bestirred itself at a banquet and began agitation. A board of directors was elected April 19, 1913.

The campaign which started Appleton men on the idea of working shoulder to shoulder in community projects took place in 1913 after F. E. Anderson, state secretary, announced that the Rosebush family would give $25,000 if the city would raise another $75,000 for a building. Dedication took place Oct. 17, 1915. Two members of the original board of directors, S. R. Wagg and William Jones have died. Seven of the first directors still are serving, said Mr. Harwood, and every motion ever introduced has had unanimous passage as approved at all.

Judson G. Rosebush was described by Mr. Lindsay in his talk as a virtual Moses raised by God to lead the Y. M. C. A. through a wilderness that it seemed might split and disrupt the organization. It became apparent that the mode of organization provided by the constitution impeded progress and a constitutional convention therefore was announced. Ideas were so numerous and so diverging and so many national schemes were proposed that there were grave fears for the outcome.

DEvised PLAN

Mr. Rosebush became a member of the international committee, said the speaker, and he ascended to the leadership of the constitutional convention. His intimate and broad knowledge of organization gained from a study of political science and from business experience, seemed to furnish the plan which ended the difficulties and it was adopted unanimously and will doubtless be known in history as the Rosebush plan. His work and advice in the state association also were praised.

There is no Y. M. C. A. in Wisconsin which can be counted upon more than that of Appleton for its loyalty, help and support said Mr. Lindsay. The faithful work and influence of F. J. Harwood have been written into the history of the state by virtue of his service on the Wisconsin board. Mr. Harwood has been a life of devoted and active service.

George F. Werner now is the senior Y. M. C. A. secretary of the state said Mr. Lindsay, in his presentation of Appleton's leadership in this work. He has served in Wisconsin longer than any other general secretary, and has been of immense help to other associations and the state in general.

Mexico, Shaking Off Its Laziness, Making Progress

Backward, slothful Mexico is going through regeneration, a change of living standards and ascendancy to a pride of race, all in the face of an erroneous impression that it cannot develop, Judson G. Rosebush declared in his address at the annual banquet of the Y. M. C. A. in the gymnasium Wednesday evening.

Lack of tillable land, inability to break up estates of thousands and even millions of acres, instability and difficulty of government in a country of more than 50 dialects, imperfect race amalgamation, exodus of peons to the United States and other causes were cited by the speaker as contributing to the virtual fifteenth century existence which has characterized the common people.

Yet Mexico is building numerous and splendid schools and there is an exchange of knowledge taking place which is bringing American ideas into practice, the speaker said. Her great needs are education for her poor children, greater respect for capital and credit and a stable government so Americans will not hesitate to spend money for development of their Mexican interests. One great and definite contribution to Mexico's progress attributable directly to the Y. M. C. A. is the athletics which the schools are adopting extensively.

These interesting observations were into the heart of Mexico, accompanied by Mrs. Rosebush. They had just returned from the journey and the impressions therefore were fresh in mind. Mr. Rosebush is a member of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. and went into Mexico officially representing that body. He made a study of conditions there and gained his conclusions from interviews with men of prominence in diplomatic, business and Y. M. C. A. circles.

BEGINS TAKING STOCK
Basing his statements on an analysis made by the highest officials of Mexico's education department as to the most striking things that have happened since the revolution in 1910, Mr. Rosebush said the country was taking stock of itself before the mirror, as it were. She has begun a period of social, moral, political and religious regeneration and reconstruction.

"There also has been a marvelous change in the standard of living," remarked the speaker. "The people have shifted from the bare feet to shoes, for instance, and the men who till have changed from muslin to their only garb to overalls. The natives haven't yet reached the window glass stage or that of using ovens in their homes, so you can appreciate what slovenly, wretched life they are living."

"These men of the Latin race for the first time in history have begun to take the attitude that they are proud of their race. This is illustrated no better than in an aphorism which was given to me which states that it is 'betwixt and between' states that live on your knees. In other words they no longer will drag about in the mire and be submissive to others. This change also is reflected in the wording over a door which was interpreted to mean, 'Through my race the spirit shall speak.'"

Mr. Rosebush described how disheartened he felt when he witnessed the contrast between American cities and those he saw on his journey by train to Mexico City. Mexican peons live in huts of brick or reed, with no windows, floors or conveniences. One is led to feel that the country will never amount to anything but this is an erroneous opinion and a superficial one. A large percentage of the peon population is of Indian extraction, he said, but there is a possibility of developing these people. Diaz, Huerta and other great leaders of the nation were of Indian blood, proving that there is latent ability among these people.

There is no use trying to teach the adults, declared the speaker, but that is not true of the peon children. They should be educated. An inspiring sight that greeted him in his travels, he said, was four school buildings as beautiful as could be found anywhere, with extensive athletic facilities, and outdoor swimming pools that could be used the year around. Mexico established 3,000 rural schools and aimed to erect 5,000 but there was not enough money available. This will be done, however.

LITTLE FARMING-AREA

Mexico geographically is essentially different from this country for she has no magnificent stretches of agrarian country like we find here, said Mr. Rosebush. He later declared that although Mexico is 11 times the size of Wisconsin, only 7 per cent of its land can ever be tilled. It is mostly a desert waste. The country is in a tropical area but a large part of the interior is 7,000 feet above sea level and is even cooler at times than the weather we have here.

Another difficulty lies in the fact that when the Spaniards conquered Mexico they left their women at home and intermarried with the Indians living in the country. Americans, in contrast to this brought their wives along. The result is imperfect amalgamation, and the population is half Spanish and native Indian.

One cannot escape the growing interdependence of United States and Mexico, observed the speaker. Immigration laws permit an exodus of peons into United States at a rate such that this country 'either will have to change its alien law, or Mexico must prohibit its natives from leaving its bounds. Peons receive wages of the equal of 25 to 75 cents a day in American money and it is natural, therefore, that they seek employment here and have spilled all over the United States. 'Only a large massing of capital will improve conditions in Mexico, because the peons have no capital with which to conduct farms if the vast estates are broken up. There will be a demand for higher wages, also, when the peon children are educated.

There is on the other hand, another flow in progress. Mexico's demand for capital and managerial ability are tremendous and the surplus of both in the United States and Canada has started a never ending stream into that country. This interdependence is only beginning and the restless Anglo-Saxons soon will learn of the tremendous wealth of the undeveloped country to the south. All that is needed, said Mr. Rosebush, is a decent regime for this relationship.

The church and the Y. M. C. A. find a tremendous task, he declared, in interpreting to the Mexicans the higher level of American life. Yet the interchange is taking place. Many things of American origin may be found among the natives, such as bobbed hair, short skirts, yellow stockings, ice cream, merry-go-

APPLETON MAN LOSES TENT SHOW IN STORM

A loss of about $2,000 was suffered when the tents in which the Carlson-Reeth Stock Co. was performing were struck by a windstorm at about 12:30 Tuesday evening at Antigo. rounds. Sunday papers with rotogravure sections, Palmolive soap, Kimberly-Clark products, American automobiles and an increase in the knowledge of English.

The country has an inherent difficulty of government because of more than 50 dialects. It has very poor roads and lacks real democracy, for about 100,000 votes are cast for president. Her moral difficulties are a pronounced laxity in fidelity to the institution of marriage and the tendency of the northerners to use strong drink excessively. There is a tremendous demand for statesmanship in Mexico, in spite of all this, has done much better than expected since the time of Woodrow Wilson.
